

The Truth About Stoves

By the Largest Makers of Stoves and Ranges in the World

MANY people have been deceived in believing that stoves were cheap because of a low price, when experience proves them the most expensive.

A small price may be paid for a stove which looks attractive in the catalogue, which has been described as "perfect," but it is liable to prove a very expensive purchase; for ten chances to one, trouble will arise from this stove in a month's time—it may not heat or cook properly, or it may consume fuel like a locomotive. Then the material in the stove itself may wear so poorly that at the end of a year or so it will have to be replaced.

You never get something for nothing in this world, and when you pay a small price for a stove, that price must cover the cost of material and labor, and include a reasonable profit, consequently inferior cast-iron and steel, and the cheapest and most inexperienced labor, must go into this seemingly low-priced stove.

Expert Stove Advice Free.

We have opened an "Advice Department," in charge of an expert stoveman, simply to tell the people, absolutely free of cost, all about stoves. And this expert will honestly advise you just which stove or range will best suit your needs. We also want those who have lost money on the seemingly inexpensive stove, to let us tell them how they can save money by buying a "Garland," even if the first cost is a little more than that of the cheap and unsatisfactory stove. We want them to let us tell them about the advantages of "Garland" Stoves and Ranges, which always prove a good investment.

We make a "Garland" to fit every place and have books accurately describing the different kinds. We could not afford to open this "Advice Department" or send out the valuable literature we do, free of charge, if "Garland" Stoves and Ranges were not distinctly superior to other makes; if the magnitude of our operations did not make it possible for us to sell them at reasonable prices, and if our reputation and methods of doing business did not insure absolute satisfaction.

If you are considering the purchase of a stove or range, cut out this coupon, check (this way) the kind of stove you are interested in, mail it to us today, and you will promptly receive our Expert Advice as to just which stove is best suited to your needs, and why, and our literature, free of charge.

COMMENDS THE STATE TROOPS

GOVERNOR BROWARD SPEAKS
HIGHLY OF STATE SOLDIERS
RECENTLY IN CAMP.

Adjutant General Foster has issued the following:
State of Florida,
Adjutant General's Office,
Lake City, Oct. 23, 1905.
General Order No. 30.

"Upon the close of the encampment of the First Infantry and Artillery Corps, the commander-in-chief deems it proper to express his appreciation of the general improvement made in the brief period during which the command has been in the field for instruction. While considerable good work has been done and great strides made in the desired direction of improved efficiency, there remains much more to be accomplished before the proper standard is reached, and it is hoped that all officers concerned, from the highest to the lowest, upon their return to their home stations, will continue to apply the lessons learned at this encampment, and put forth every effort to advance the progress already made. Military duty is a constant one, involving conscientious and zealous application of all the rules and regulations governing military service to the end that effective organizations may be maintained throughout the entire year.

It is with pride and satisfaction that the commander-in-chief announces to the commands the compliment paid by the President of the United States on Saturday last when the troops of Camp Broward acted as his escort of honor in Jacksonville. The President upon that occasion was pleased to say that he was very much gratified over the appearance of the troops in service uniform, and appreciated the soldierly bearing, remarking further that they looked businesslike and desired that his thanks be tendered to them for the services they had rendered as his escort of honor.

By command of the Governor,
J. CLIFFORD R. FOSTER,
Adj. Gen. F. S. T.

A Judicious Inquiry.
A well known traveling man who vic' its the drug trade says he has often heard druggists inquire of customers who asked for a cough medicine, whether it was wanted for a child or for an adult, and if for a child they almost invariably recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it, and for coughs, colds and croup it is unsurpassed. For sale by all druggists.

CARD OF THANKS.
I take this method of thanking the many friends who so kindly assisted me during the illness of my husband, Joseph Asselford, and who did everything possible to relieve me during my trouble and sorrow. To all of them I extend my most heartfelt thanks.

GREAT INTEREST IN W. FLORIDA FAIR

Event Promises to Be Big Success
Notwithstanding Disadvantages—DeFunak News.

Special to The Journal.
DeFunak Springs, Oct. 27.—The West Florida Fair which opens here next Wednesday, promises to be a big success, in every particular despite the quarantine restrictions and other disadvantages. The aim of the management is to make the Fair of greatest benefit to the farmers who ought to be the most interested. Entries of live stock which will surpass anything of its kind this far south, are coming in from everywhere, and the greatest interest is shown in this department. The office of the secretary is besieged with questions concerning every department, but most especially that which the ladies are superintending. In this there will be many competitors in fancy work of all kinds, preserved and canned fruits, bread and cake, pickled flowers, etc. Our streets are going to put on holiday attire and all the principal residences will be gaily decorated. Every man, woman and child is urged to come to help make the Fair a success and they will be cordially welcomed with that hospitality for which DeFunak is noted.

The Rev. Mr. Higdon, of Virginia, has been called to serve the Presbyterian church at this place. The church has been without a pastor about six months and the members hope the call will be accepted.

Miss Willie Terwin, of Whitefield, is visiting her relatives, a. r. and Mrs. F. Q. Terwin.

Mrs. J. T. Stubbs is on a visit of several weeks to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stubbs at Freeport.

The school board met in special session Tuesday to discuss the all important question of the contract made between the school board and the American Book Company, of Atlanta, Ga.

The friends of Mr. T. E. Johnson were pleased to see him on the streets again Thursday, after an absence of several weeks.

The Rev. Mr. Whitely of Marianna will hold services in the Episcopal church Sunday morning and evening.

The B. P. Morris Co. is having a handsome glass front put on their building and when completed will be quite an addition to that block.

The Graves, Tatum Co. has almost completed the telephone line which connects their log camp with Bruce, the terminus of the Walton Land and Timber Company's line.

The turning point interests of Johnson Bros. at Bruce have been purchased by the Walton Land and Timber Co., and they will also put up a saw mill at Alaqua for the purpose of cutting staves and heading for rosin barrels.

Mr. Walter F. Graves and family have returned from Virginia, where they spent the summer. They express themselves as delighted to get home once more.

Mr. and Mrs. Colver celebrated their fifth anniversary in a most delightful way Thursday at their home on Plateau avenue.

An unusually large crowd was at the station Tuesday night to welcome "our boys" on their return from camp. They made a fine record there, showing exceptionally good training and was conceded the best drilled company in camp. It is interesting to hear them relate, in their own way, the routine of camp life and the many amusing incidents which occurred. At the first opportunity the young men presented a lovely set of cut glass to their beloved captain in appreciation of his services.

"COME OUT OF YOUR SHELL"

Husbands and Wives Who Hold Apart From Neighbors.

I am acquainted with too many husbands and wives who, though all the world to each other, are nothing to the world. Their whole life is within their home. They gather comforts about them, they bear dainties to each other's lips, they live and move and have their whole being in each other's love, and shutting out all the world, live only for themselves.

I say I know too many such pairs as these. They are far too plenty. They cannot bear to be torn from their homes for an afternoon. They take no interest in others.

They never call friends and neighbors around their board, and they consider it a hardship to fulfill the common offices of social politeness—to say nothing of hospitality. It is not unjust to say that this is one of the most dangerous and most repulsive forms of married life. It is selfishness doubled, associated, instituted, and it deserves serious treatment.

Homes, like individuals, have their relations to each other, and, as no man liveth to himself alone, no home should live to itself alone. It is through the medium of homes that the social life of America is kept in circulation—through this medium almost exclusively.

Every home should be as a city set upon a hill that cannot be hid. Into it should flock friends and friendships, bringing the life of the world, the stimulus and the modifying power of contact with various natures, the fresh flowers of feeling gathered from wide fields. Out of it should flow benign charities, pleasant amenities and all those influences which are the natural offspring of a high and harmonious home life.

Intercommunication of minds and homes is the condition of individual and social development, and failing of this no married pair can be what they should be to each other. Exclusive devotion to business by day and exclusive devotion to selfish home enjoyments at night will dry up, harden and deprecate the richest natures in the course of a few years, and as soon as the man withdraws from the business of the world the world has seen the last of him and his family for life.

They have no outside associations. It is as if they did not live at all. When they die, nobody misses them, for they have been nothing to society. As many doors are open as before, and social life feels no ripple upon its surface when the sand is thrown upon their coffins.

There should glow in every house throughout the land the light of a pleasant welcome for friends. On every hearth should leap the flame that irradiates the forms and faces of associates. Neighborhood should mean something more than a collection of dark and selfishly closed hearts and houses. A community should be something better than an aggregation of individuals and homes governed by the same laws and sustaining equal civil burdens. Neighborhood should be the name of a vital relationship.

A community should be a community in fact—informed with a genial, social life, in which the influence of each nature, the power of each intellect, the wealth of every individual acquisition, the force of every well directed will and the inspiration of every high and pure character should be felt by all. A neighborhood of homes like this would be a neighborhood indeed, and none other deserves the name—"Timothy Titcomb's Letters" in Boston Globe.

Profitable.
"Did you feel cheap when you found out that the count your daughter wanted to marry was an impostor?"
"Cheap? I should say not! It was a half million clear profit to me."—Exchange.

He Gave It Up.
Mrs. Henpeck—I've often wondered what first attracted you to me. What was it about me that made you want to marry me? Henpeck—I give it up. I never was good at riddles.—Chicago Journal.

SEPARATION OF RACES TO BE ENFORCED

Jacksonville Ordinance Will Soon Go Into Effect and Will Be Rigidly Adhered To.

The Jacksonville Times-Union says: More than a week has elapsed since the ordinance requiring the separation of the races on street cars was passed by the city council, but the ordinance has not yet taken effect.

To become effective, an ordinance passed by the city council has to be approved by the mayor and published as a legal advertisement. While the ordinance has been approved by Mayor Nolan, it has not yet been published, and will not become effective until such publication.

There was no hesitation on the part of Mayor Nolan in approving the ordinance. He had placed himself on record during the late municipal campaign as being in favor of a race separation ordinance, and declared that when such a law became effective he would enforce it.

The delay in publishing the ordinance has been for the purpose of giving the street railroad companies time to secure the necessary signs and equipments required by the terms of the ordinance, so that as soon as it is published any becomes effective it can be enforced.

Manager Tucker is Ready.
"We will be ready to enforce the race separation ordinance whenever it goes into effect," said Manager W. H. Tucker of the Jacksonville Electric Company yesterday.

"If the law should go into effect today," said Mr. Tucker, "we are ready to enforce it to the letter."

The Jacksonville Electric Company has already had about one hundred signs painted bearing the words "Whites" and "Colored," which will be tacked on each end of the cars, as provided in the separation ordinance.

Not Officially Advised.
"I have not been officially advised that the ordinance has been signed by Mayor Nolan," said Mr. Tucker; "but I learn that it has. However, we are ready to enforce the ordinance when it goes into effect."

There will be no smoking allowed on the street cars when this ordinance goes into effect, and I am sure many kicks will be filed as most every man loves to smoke on a street car—I do myself. It will, however, be out of the question to allow smoking on the cars, as there would be complaints from both races."

Provisions of the Ordinance.
The ordinance provides that signs with letters not less than two inches in height, bearing the words "white" and "colored" shall be fixed in the ends of the cars to which white and colored passengers are assigned, respectively.

On open cars, signs are to be fixed on the side of the car, showing the portion of the car assigned to white passengers and the portion assigned to colored passengers.

Penalties Are Provided.
The law contains the following provisions in regard to penalties:

"Any company, person, firm or association operating street cars in the city of Jacksonville without such signs so provided and placed and any officer, agent or employee of any such company, person or firm who shall, as superintendent or other officer of such company, or as conductor, motorman or other employee of such company, operate any car not so provided with signs on the streets cars of the city of Jacksonville for the transportation of passengers, shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than $50 or by imprisonment not more than ninety days for each such offense. And any white person wilfully occupying as a passenger any car or part of car not so set apart and provided for white passengers, and any colored person wilfully occupying as a passenger any car or part of car not so set apart and provided for colored passengers, shall be deemed guilty of disorderly conduct, and shall be punished by fine not exceeding $500 or by imprisonment not exceeding ninety days.

Duties of Employees.
"It is hereby made the duty of conductors, motormen and others engaged in the operation of street cars within the limits of the city of Jacksonville to call the attention of passengers to such signs and to the fact that separate provision is made for white and colored passengers, and to request white and colored passengers who are about to enter, or who have entered, cars, or divisions of cars, not intended for their accommodation, to occupy only the cars or divisions of cars provided for their accommodations, and if any such passenger refuses or fails to leave the car, or part of car, not provided for his or her accommodation, such conductor, motorman or other person operating such car shall notify the police department, or a member thereof, as soon as it is possible.

Police to Make Arrests.
"Any police officer of the city of Jacksonville seeing any white or colored passenger occupying a car or part of car not provided for his or her accommodation, as indicated by such signs, shall arrest any such person and take him or her from such car and carry him or her to the police station, as in the case of any other person guilty of disorderly conduct."

"Special cars, in addition to the regular schedule cars, may at any time be run for the exclusive accommodation of either white or colored passengers, for special occasions or special business."
